Glamping Tents in the Royal Gorge Named Best Camping in Colorado

CAÑON CITY, Colo., October 8, 2021 - The Glamping Tents at Royal Gorge Cabins in central Colorado have been named the best place to camp in Colorado in a recent MSN story.

Offering sweeping views of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains and generous private outdoor space in an artfully landscaped setting, the Glamping Tents are among the offerings of Echo Canyon River Expeditions and Royal Gorge Cabins, a top-ranked adventure resort with whitewater rafting on the Arkansas River, restaurant, store, lodging, glamping and camping. The resort is situated eight miles outside of Cañon City near the Royal Gorge Bridge & Park.

The story called the Glamping Tents “effectively luxury hotel rooms with canvas walls and instant access to the great, gorgeous outdoors. Each is filled with luxury textiles, huge, comfy beds and quirky décor like faux antler chandeliers. Decks have chairs and campfires, while well-maintained shower houses are stocked with toiletries and just a short walk away.”

Seating areas include fire pits and furniture-grade stumps.

Open May through October, the one- and two-bed Glamping Tents feature air conditioning, screened windows, chairs and a table, desks, multiple electrical outlets and free WiFi as well as plush towels and luxury toiletries. Outside, guests will find a fire ring and furniture-grade stumps for seating, deck seating and plenty of private outdoor space for enjoying cornhole and dark skies and starry nights. Community bathhouses and the popular 8 Mile Bar and Grill are just steps away.

Also nearby are the luxury Royal Gorge Cabins, open year-round. The one- and two- bedroom cabins include a variety of luxurious touches such as double-sided fireplaces and huge windows for guests to enjoy the view of the mountains inside and out. The cabins feature huge living areas, kitchenettes, one or two bathrooms and private patios with large, comfortable tables and gas grills. Like the Glamping Tents, all cabins feature sweeping mountain views.

The Royal Gorge Cabins and Glamping Tents are the brainchild of Andy Neinas, long-time owner of Echo Canyon River Expeditions, the region’s largest provider of whitewater rafting trips on the Arkansas River. The cabins and four original Glamping Tents were completed in time for the 2017 season. The Glamping Tents were so popular that Neinas and his team quickly added more.

“With a range of incredible rafting experiences, a historic bridge, stunning gorge, bucolic hiking and biking trails and range of other adventures, the Royal Gorge begs for more than one day of exploration,” said Neinas. “It is clear that there was a big need for lodging that is as special as the region.”

The Royal Gorge region has something for every type of traveler. Popular regional attractions include the Royal Gorge Bridge and Park, Dinosaur Experience, Winery at Holy Cross Abbey and Royal Gorge Route Railroad. The area is also known for its miles of hiking and biking trails.
